WHERE DID THE THIEF
STEAL THE HORNED CAP
AND THE FLAG?

THE THIEVES' TRAIL
 He stole the cap from a dozing Oxford Bulls fan.
 He tore the flag off a car.
 Apparently, he also 'borrowed' the fishing rod he used to fish the hat off Fernando's head ...
 Thanks for investigating, Detectives! The brazen thief will have to watch the next game on the TV in prison.

PRINT & PLAY

Simply print out the cards (preferably on slightly thicker paper), cut them out along the dotted lines and you're good to go.

Whether you can print the front and back exactly aligned depends on your printer (if so, mirror on the short side).
 If not: print the two sides on separate sheets, glue the front and back together and cut out the cards.
 Of course, please make sure that you don't spoil yourselves.

Have fun!

FAN MERCHANDISE

After fishing for hats, the thief stole a fan T-shirt from a bicycle and stole a sculptured bush from a community garden.

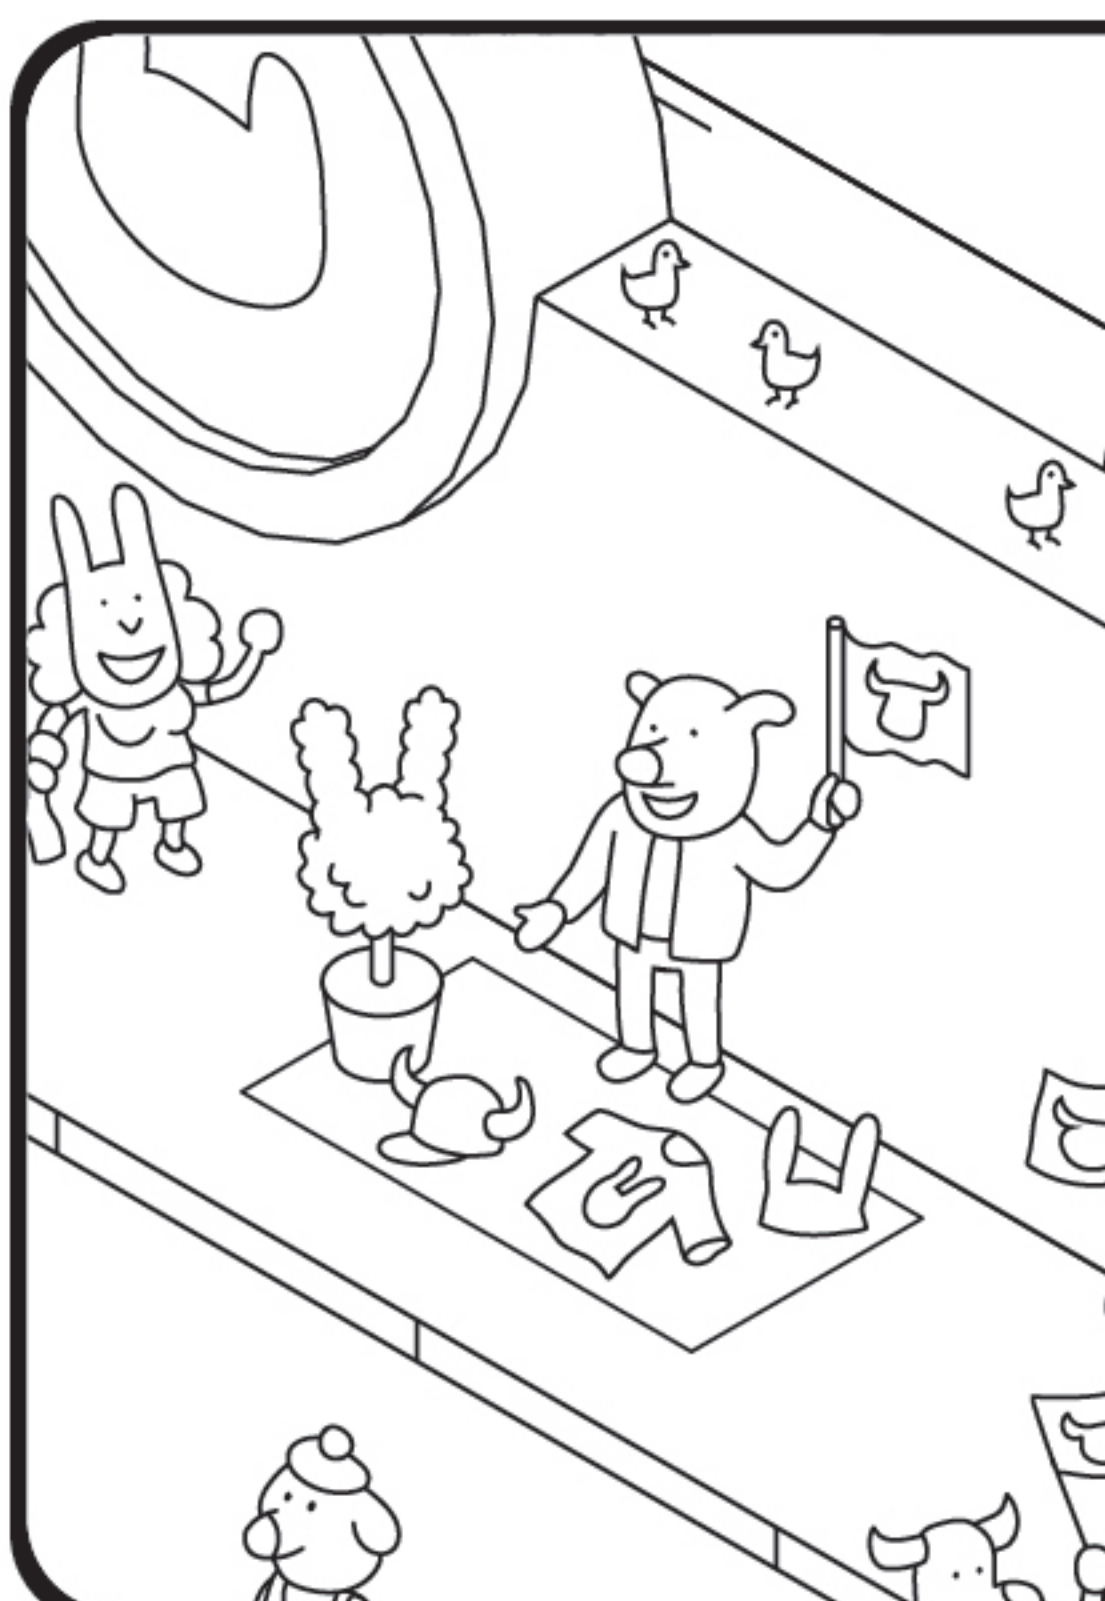

THE FISHERMAN IN THE TREE

The thief hid in a tree and fished the hat off his head.

FOUL PLAY

Fernando is standing in the middle of the street, confused: The fan hat of his beloved Crime City Bunnies has been snatched from his head – even though he had bought it especially for today's home game against the Oxford Bulls.

What a mean thing to do!

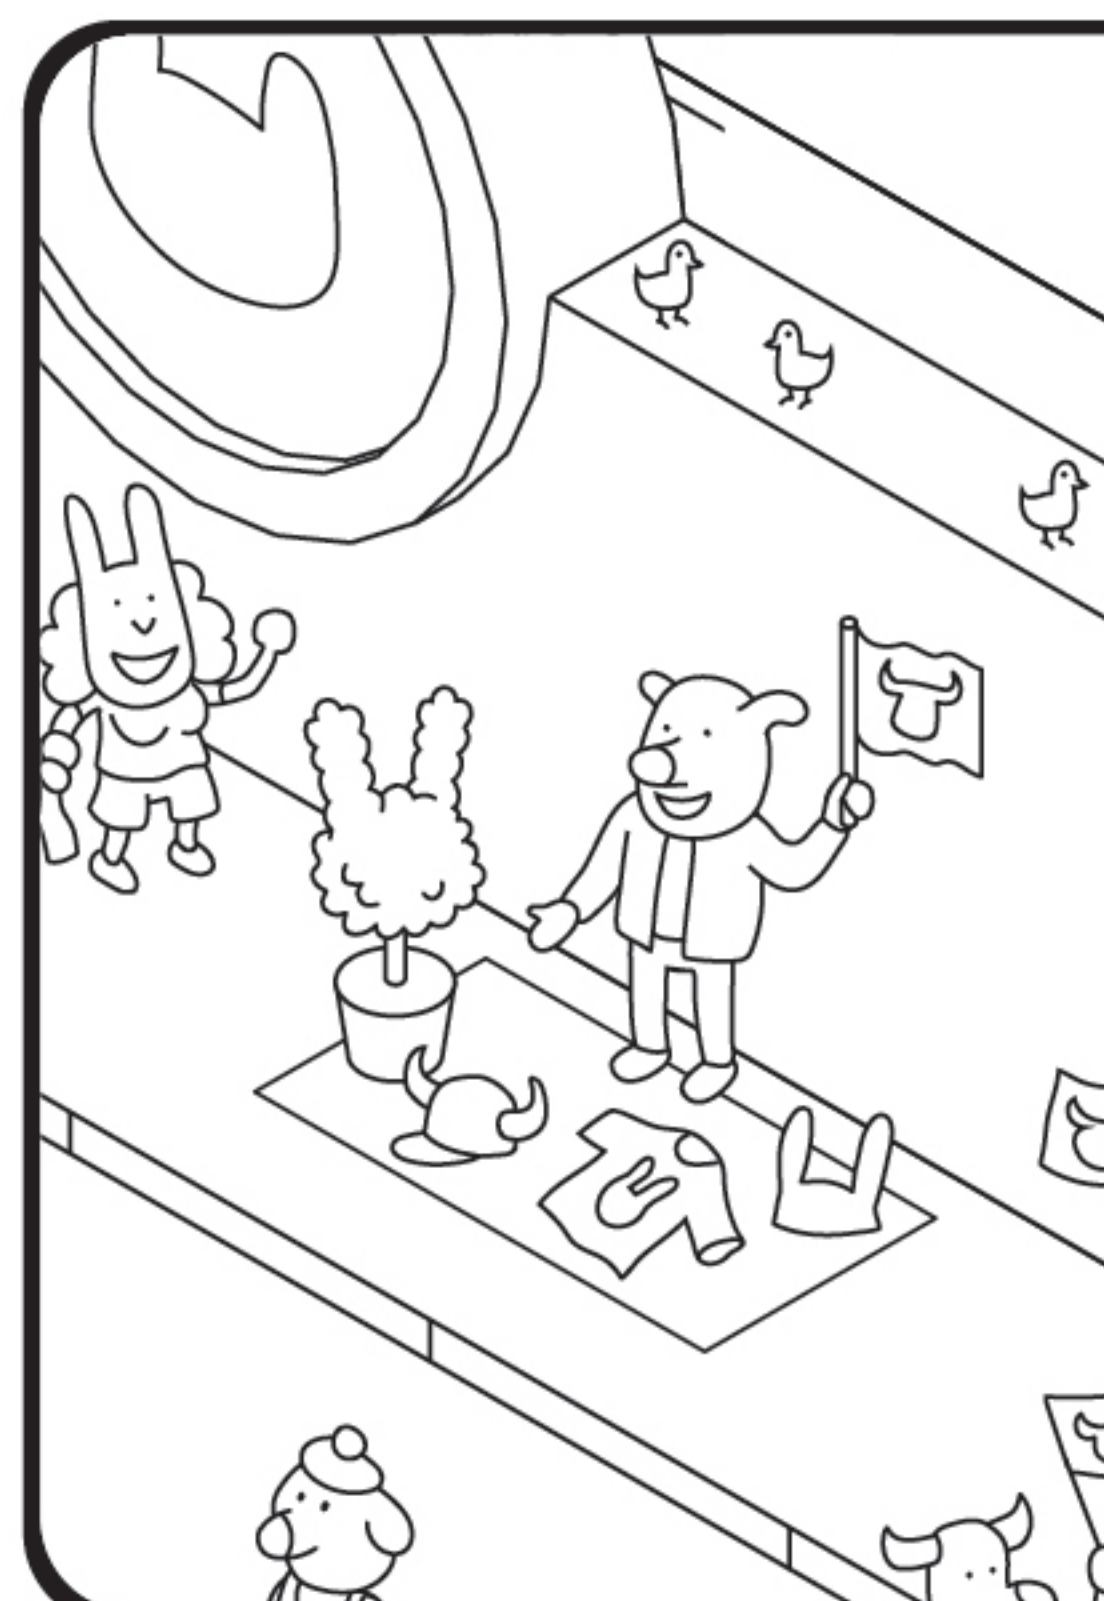

THE THIEVES' TRAIL

He stole the cap from a dozing Oxford Bulls fan. He tore the flag off a car.

Apparently, he also 'borrowed' the fishing rod he used to fish the hat off Fernando's head ...

IN FRONT OF THE STADIUM

The man is standing in front of the stadium selling his stolen goods to fans.

As well as the T-shirt, the bush, and Fernando's hat, he is also selling a horned cap and a flag.
